About Boyd & Jenerette, P.A.

Statewide Defense in Florida and Georgia

Boyd & Jenerette is an experienced yet progressive civil litigation law firm that represents insurance companies and self-insured entities in a wide range of claims and litigation matters across Florida and Georgia.

The attorneys at Boyd & Jenerette are well aware of the current issues facing our clients including costs of defense, close file rates, extracontractual exposure and current legal trends, and therefore we partner with our clients to develop defense strategies that are beneficial both as to cost and ultimate outcome.

We strongly believe that the traditional defense firm structure that was focused almost entirely on billable hours is outdated and does not meet our clients' needs. In addition, we have found that we do not need to have multiple physical office locations in order to cost effectively service our clients' needs throughout Florida and Georgia.

We take advantage of the efficiencies that are possible due to technology and have attorneys who work remotely in multiple locations with secure access to the firm's databases.

Boyd & Jenerette applies a business approach to the practice of law and is constantly searching for innovative ways to reduce the cost of litigation for our clients.

Recognized for Credentials and Leadership

Boyd & Jenerette, P.A. strives to build long-term client relationships through outstanding service, which is reflected in part through attorney credentials and peer recognition. Six of the firm's attorneys are Board Certified by The Florida Bar, including one in the area of Civil Trial, one in Appellate Practice, two in Construction Law, and two in Workers' Compensation.

The firm is AV[®] Preeminent Peer Review Rated by Martindale-Hubbell, and 11 of the firm's attorneys are also AV Peer Review Rated at an individual level.

Boyd & Jenerette, P.A. is also recognized in the 2018 "Best Law Firms" list by U.S. News & World Report and Best Lawyers[®] in the following two areas: Tier 2, Jacksonville, Personal Injury Litigation – Defendants, and Insurance Law. The firm is honored to have been recognized in Best Lawyers[®] "Best Law Firms" rankings for eight consecutive years (2011 – 2018).

About the Construction Law Group

The Boyd & Jenerette Construction Law Group offers clients a full-service construction law practice throughout Florida. The firm understands the specialized needs of those in the construction industry, from pre-suit intervention when litigation can be avoided, to a full trial when needed.

Two attorneys in the Construction Law Group—Michael J. Childers and Beth-Ann Schulman—are Board Certified by The Florida Bar in Construction Law. They are experts in residential, commercial and roadway construction law matters, from pre-suit through trial or arbitration.

Litigation avoidance is a priority for Boyd & Jenerette, so the firm works closely with owners, contractors, design professionals, developers, and suppliers on a day-to-day basis to support a range of business and legal needs, including but not limited to:

- Contract drafting and review
- Project delays, both during and after construction
- Insurance coverage disputes
- Licensure complaints
- Liens and bonds
- Surety work

If insurance coverage is not clear given the unique circumstances of a case, the firm can assist with insurance coverage opinions and declaratory actions.

When a dispute arises on a construction project, Boyd & Jenerette attorneys are experienced in negotiating or litigating construction claims involving:

- Breach of contract
- Building product liability
- Construction defects
- Delay and impact claims
- Personal injury
- Professional liability
- Property damage
- Wrongful death

The Construction Law Group works hand-in-hand with the Workers' Compensation and Employment Group to assist clients with employment issues and stop work orders. Several attorneys concentrate in professional liability defense of contractors and design professionals.

The Construction Law Group looks forward to assisting you and your company with all of your construction-related needs. Contact any one of the construction attorneys for further information.

Beth-Ann Schulman chairs the firm's Construction Law Group. She is Board Certified in Construction Law by The Florida Bar. As such, she is an expert in construction law matters involving construction defects, professional liability, breach of contract, delays, liens and insurance coverage.

Ms. Schulman represents general contractors, subcontractors, developers, and design professionals in all areas of construction law in both a litigation and transactional capacity.

She started her legal construction experience with Moye, O'Brien, O'Rourke, Pickert & Martin, where she represented owners and contractors primarily related to theme park construction, horizontal heavy civil construction projects, Florida lien claims and the representation of design professionals. Additionally, she is experienced in drafting delay claims, contracts, subcontracts and various other transactions relating to the construction industry.

In 2006, Ms. Schulman started Travelers' Florida staff counsel construction defect litigation practice. At Travelers, Ms. Schulman was the product line lead for the state of Florida and served on the national construction defect leadership board. For four years prior to joining Boyd & Jenerette, Ms. Schulman was in private practice serving the construction industry.

Ms. Schulman is also a Florida Supreme Court Certified Civil Mediator, a Florida Approved Arbitrator, and worked as an accountant in the construction industry prior to becoming a lawyer.

Tom Berger maintains a general practice that provides him with a broad range of legal insight into claims disputes involving Florida insurers and their insureds. The types of cases he handles include:

- Slip and falls
- Auto personal injury defense
- Product liability
- Construction defects
- Homeowner association and condominium disputes

Tom is an experienced trial attorney who has tried seven cases to verdict in the past five years. His trial experience is in state court and he has mediated settlements from Fort Pierce to Key West, including the counties of St. Lucie, Martin, Palm Beach, Broward, Miami-Dade and Monroe. He has also argued appeals before the Florida Fourth District Court of Appeals.

His work in auto cases includes the defense of bodily injury and uninsured motorist claims. His experience with slip and fall injury cases includes a range of premises situations in retail, restaurant or other business properties. Product liability claims handled by Tom include power saws and other industrial or construction equipment.

In the area of construction defects, he represents general contractors and subcontractors in all aspects of construction from watertight issues to roofing, railings, doors and housing substructures. Many of the disputes he has handled involve high-end residential projects, including one property valued at $40 million.

His HOA case experience includes the defense of board members under errors and omissions (E&O) policies against allegations of fraud, selective enforcement or breach of fiduciary duty.

Tom serves as a Community Representative at Large on the Construction Oversight Review Committee (CORC) for the School District of Palm Beach County, a voluntary position he has held since 2005.

CORC is a citizen-based committee created to assist the School Board in building quality schools on time and within budget. The committee meets monthly to review all aspects of construction at elementary, middle and high schools across Palm Beach County. CORC monitors activities including land purchases and sales, school building construction and maintenance, classroom design, and student transportation.

Tom also served on the West Boca Community Council, an umbrella organization of more than 100 homeowner and condominium member associations, from 2002 to 2014. This voluntary civic organization helped the unincorporated areas of West Boca present matters of public concern to the County Commissioner for consideration.

He has three children and is a native of Cleveland, Ohio.

Randy Dow is a Partner in the Firm's South Florida office, located in Boca Raton. His practice includes construction law, with an emphasis on delay and defect claims arising out of residential, commercial and industrial projects. In addition, a significant portion of Mr. Dow's practice is dedicated to the defense of product liability and general liability claims relating to construction equipment, power tools and construction vehicles.

Mr. Dow serves as statewide litigation counsel for various national and international corporations in the construction, equipment rental and property management industries. He has litigated numerous commercial and coverage claims since joining The Florida Bar in 1997.

He also has significant experience in automobile liability, including claims related to tractor-trailers and other commercial vehicles.

Mr. Dow was born in Bangor, Maine, and lived throughout the country during his father's 25-year career in the U.S. Navy. He moved to South Florida after graduating from law school in 1997.

Representative Cases*

Boyd & Jenerette's insurance coverage team obtained summary judgment in late 2016 on behalf of a major insurance carrier in an action for declaratory relief. The action was brought by attorneys Jane Anderson and Randy Dow in a Florida federal district court. The central issue in the coverage action was whether a named insured on an umbrella policy could qualify for "family member" coverage in connection with a fatal automobile accident.

The Boyd & Jenerette bad faith trial team successfully defended a major insurance company in a Northern Florida county circuit court against allegations of bad faith in handling a property claim involving damage to an expensive automobile. Attorneys Jane Anderson and Randy Dow tried the case to a jury over seven days in late 2016.

Kailey has always been dedicated to helping others and she carries that dedication into her cases she works on. Following law school, Kailey joined Boyd & Jenerette in 2009, working in the Jacksonville office. In 2014, Kailey decided that she wanted to move back to her hometown of Orlando and started working at the State Attorney's Office. During her three years as a prosecutor, Kailey was able to enhance her trial skills. In 2017, Kailey moved from criminal law to family law. In early 2018, Kailey knew it was time to return "home" and was welcomed back to Boyd & Jenerette, where her legal career began.

Due to her diverse experiences in law, Kailey is dedicated to client satisfaction and efficiency.

In addition to practicing law, Kailey enjoys yoga, running, and a good book.
